NUMB. 562.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From SEPTEMBER 13. to SEPTEMBER 20. 1739.

LONDON, May 26.

WE hear that the Bill for the more eaſy and effectual Recovery of ſmall Debts, is to be for all Sums under 40 s. and to commence at Michaelmas next, and to be in force for three Years, and no longer.

We hear Publick Regiſters will be appointed for regiſtering of all Deeds, Conveyances, Wills, &c. in all the Counties in England, (where they are not already) and each Regiſter is to be allowed a Deputy.

May 31. Letters from Paris mention, that the King has order'd eleven Millions of Livres to be diſtributed, to buy Corn for the poor People in the ſeveral Provinces; and that the Duke of Orleans has diſtributed two Millions of Livres on the ſame Account, there being ſo great a Scarcity in that Kingdom; but the Weather is come in warm there, ſo they are in Hopes of having a good Harveſt the enſuing Seaſon.

Extract of a Letter from Cadiz, dated May 19.

'The Treaſure and Effects brought by the Buenos 'Ayres Ships are deliver'd out, to the great Relief of 'this Commerce.

'Our Flota Ships have been order'd to be all re-mea-'ſur'd, and an Account thereof is gone up to Court, 'which gives the Owners no ſmall Concern. The 'Court has not yet determin'd the Number of Ships 'that ſhall compoſe it, which is ſome Hindrance to 'their Diſpatch; and for the preſent moſt People have 'ſuſpended their Funds 'till they can be at ſome greater 'Certainty about the Time of their Departure. Yeſ-'terday one of thoſe in the firſt Nomination (formerly 'a Hambourg Man of War) was unfortunately burnt 'in the Creek by the Careleſneſs of the People employ'd 'in her Careen, and will be a Loſs of upwards of '60,000 Pieces of Eight to the Concerned. It's a 'great Providence the other Ships eſcap'd, it being at 'the Time of Low-Water, and all of them aground.

The Pariſh Church of Swanzey in Wales lately fell down, juſt before the Inhabitants went to Church; and they being unable to rebuild the ſame, are about applying for a Brief for that Purpoſe.

We are aſſur'd that Satisfaction is given to the Owners and Freighters of the Scipio, Capt. Mac Phearſon, who on her Voyage for Jamaica from Guinea, was taken in October 1736, by a French Ship, and carried into St. Peter's in Martinico; her Cargo conſiſted of Negroes, Gold Duſt, Elephant's Teeth, &c. and was valued at above 6000 l.

It is ſaid an Engliſh Merchant is arriv'd at Rome, to whom the Pope has given Leave, at the Recommendation of the Chevalier de St. George, to erect a Lottery of Plate and Jewels, to the Value of 40,000 Crowns, at two Crowns a Ticket.

Laſt Saturday about One a Clock in the Morning, the Waggons from Northamptonſhire, Bedfordſhire and Buckinghamſhire, were attack'd by two Footpads near the Brick-Kilns between Highgate and Finchly Common, two of which they robb'd; but the Waggoners from Newport-Pagnel and Stony-Stratford being arm'd, and having more Courage than the reſt, ſhot one of the Villains in the Breaſt, who fell down, but afterwards got up, and with the other made his Eſcape.

All our Accounts from the Weſt-Indies ſay, that every Thing is at preſent very quiet there, the Spaniards, for the preſent, behaving as if there had never been the leaſt Diſguſt between the two Nations.

Extract of a private Letter from an Engliſh Gentleman at Paris.

A Deputation of Fiſh Women attended the King Yeſterday, with their Congratulations upon Peace being proclaim'd between this Court and the Courts of Spain and Vienna; and whatever Notions you may have on your Side the Water of the Matter, I aſſure you, they made a very elegant Appearance, and the whole Affair was conducted with great Ceremony and Magnificence on the Behalf of the Court and the Courtezans; many of whom, as with you, are here look'd upon to be no better.

I ſhould tell you, that for Time immemorial, the Fiſh Women of Paris have claim'd it as their Privilege, or Perquiſite I ſhould rather call it, thus to addreſs his Majeſty upon all Occaſions of publick Joy; and finding the Sweets of doing ſo, there is very little Reaſon to expect they will readily quit their Claim to a Cuſtom, render'd agreeable to them by the Reception and Entertainment they are ſure to meet with; and otherwiſe profitable at the ſame Time:

The Affair is thus: Twelve, in the Name of the whole Body, come up with the Addreſs, one of which always reads it; the Hour being appointed to receive them, the King and the whole Court appear very ſplendidly dreſſed; (and the good Wives I aſſure you were gayly bedeck'd) they are introduc'd in Form, and, I think, with very little leſs Ceremony than an Ambaſſador from any crown'd Head in Europe; their Congratulations over, his Majeſty comes forward and kiſſes them all; two or three of which, this Time, they ſay, in their Surprize, or Over-Joy, kiſſed the King again: His Majeſty is a handſome Man, you know, and they are ſo uſed to kiſſing, that 'tis not much to be wonder'd at if they did; but this by the bye: They are next introduced to the Queen, and then to the reſt of the Royal Family, to whom they pay their Compliments; after which Joy takes Place, not thro' the Court only, but ſeemingly thro' the whole City: The King preſents them with a Purſe of Louis d'Ors; and they and their Friends are for three Days together entertain'd at the King's Expence; where they live merrily enough you need not doubt; upon the third Day they go in the ſame Form as they came to Court, which, I ſhould have told you, was always in Coaches, to our Metropolitan Church, where the King's own Band of Muſick attends them by Order, where they ſing Te Deum, and cloſe the Scene.

Their Speech to the King being already in print, it follows in the Words of the Tranſlator; and is, of its kind, an admirable one.

SIRE,

Like good French-Women, I and my Companions conceive all the Joy imaginable in what increaſes your Majeſty's Glory. Now as the Peace which you have been pleaſed to make, manifeſts to the whole World the Greatneſs of your Heart, and your Love for your People, we were not willing to be the laſt of your Subjects to harangue you on this Occaſion, and therefore we come in a Body to make you our Compliments of Thanks. If we were to rack our Brains to addreſs you in the Stile of the florid Speech-makers, we ſhould have uſed other Terms; But, Sire, we have no Notion of the Delicacy of Language; when we ſpeak to you, 'tis with honeſt Hearts; we boaſt of nothing more; and in this Point we will challenge the proudeſt to out-do us, or in the Sacrifice of our Lives for your Majeſty, were it neceſſary. We redouble our Prayers to God, and St. Geneviève, our good Patroneſs, that he may preſerve you in Health, and keep you from every Diſeaſe; for we earneſtly deſire that your Reign may be the longeſt that ever was; that the Dauphin may be like you in every Thing; that the Lord may give him an auguſt Spouſe with his own Hand, and bleſs his Marriage by granting you Grand Children and Great Grand Children. We hope, if God give us Life, to ſee all thoſe Prodigies ſhortly, which will render your Court the moſt ſplendid in all the World. Theſe, Sire, are the Prayers which are offer'd daily for your Majeſty, and for our auguſt Queen, by

Your moſt humble, moſt obedient, moſt
reſpectful Servants, and mean Subjects,
The FISH-WOMEN of Paris.

LONDON, July 12. About 106 Sail of Ships of War, (including three Bombs, eight Fireſhips, &c.) are now in Commiſſion in his Majeſty Service. And when thoſe Ships newly commiſſion'd are compleatly man'd, there will be then 26,500 Marriners in pay.

We hear that all the Coaſters who have had Protections, are, by Order, obliged to enter into a Bond of 1000 l. not to put into any Port but ſuch as they are conſign'd to.

We hear the Packet Boats are ordered to take in as great a Number of Men, as they us'd to do in the laſt War with France.

Tueſday was held a Board of Admiralty, when their Lordſhips were pleaſed to appoint Capt. Watſon to be Commander of the Strafford Man of War, in the Room of Capt. Durel, who is to be remov'd to a larger Ship.

The Maſters of three Ships, outward Bound, endeavour'd to paſs the Men of War that lay at the Nore, in order to proceed on their Voyages; but being fir'd upon by the Men of War, were brought to, and the Commanders committed to Maidſtone Jail for a Contempt of the Royal Authority.

Letters from Alicant, dated the 1ſt Inſt. N. S. mention Mr. Keene, our Ambaſſador at Madrid, having ſent to the Engliſh Conſul at that Place, and to the other Ports in Spain, Orders to adviſe the Maſters of all Britiſh Ships to quit the Ports of Spain with the utmoſt Expedition; and that in Conformity thereto, thoſe at and near Alicant would be gone in 24 Hours Time.

The Letters from Cadiz are not ſo freſh as thoſe from Alicant, but by next Poſt we may expect to hear they had received the ſame Advice. There were upwards of 30 Britiſh Ships in the Bay of Cadiz when the Poſt came from thence, whoſe Preſervation will be owing to Mr. Keene's prudent Caution; as ſeveral Ships now in this Kingdom have probably been ſaved by the Embargo.

They write from Glouceſter, That ſo many Perſons enter there voluntarily for the Service, that there is no Occaſion for an Impreſs.

By a falſe Report, That War was to be declar'd againſt Spain by the Heralds in Form, there was Yeſterday ſuch a Crowd at the Exchange, That the Merchants without great Inconvenience, could not get the Quadrangle to negotiate their Buſineſs.

The ſeveral Britiſh Noblemen and Gentlemen abroad on their Travels, have been wrote to by their Relations and Friends to return Home.

Yeſterday the Commiſſioners of the Navy and Victualling Offices took ſeveral Ships into their Service, to carry Proviſions, &c. to Gibraltar and the Iſland of Jamaica.

The Recruiting Officers, now in the ſeveral Parts of the Kingdom, have received Order to be very cautious againſt enliſting any Scotch Jacobites, or Iriſh Papiſts into his Majeſty's Service.

They wtite from Gibraltar, That the Engliſh Merchants reſiding in the Spaniſh Ports, are preparing to embark for England, for fear of a Rupture between the Courts of Great Britain and Spain.

Paris, July 7. O. S. The King has order'd ſix Ships of the Line to be built in the Ports of Quebec, and 18 others in the Ports of Sweden, which are to accompany the French Squadron commanded by the Marquis d'Antin, and will, jointly with that of Sweden, cruize in the Baltick.

NEWPORT, Rhode-Iſland, Septemb. 7.

Capt, James Allen having had Letters of Marque and Repriſals granted by our honourable Governor to go againſt the Spaniards, he has the Command of the Sloop Revenge, a fine new Veſſel belonging to Capt. John Browne, Merchant of this Place, mounted with ten Carriage Guns, and ten Swivels, and 76 ſtout able Men moſt of them Sailors, very well fitted with ſmall Arms, Ammunition, and other Neceſſaries for their Voyage, who ſail'd laſt Saturday on a Cruize for the Weſt-Indies.

Capt. Charles Hall having had Letters of Marque and Repriſals granted him by our honourable Governor to go againſt the Spaniards, has the Command of the Sloop Virgin Queen, belonging to Capt. George Wanton and Company, Merchants of this Place, mounted with ſix Carriage Guns and eight Swivels, and 36 able Men, well fitted with ſmall Arms, Ammunition and other Stores neceſſary for their Voyage, who ſail'd from this Port laſt Saturday on a Cruiſe for the Weſt-Indies.

Capt. Benjamin Wickham, Commander of a Sloop call'd the Charming Betty, belonging to Capt. Godfrey Malbone, Merchant of this Place, having had Letters of Marque and Repriſals granted him by our honourable Governor, is now under Sail on a Cruiſe for the Weſt-Indies, againſt the Spaniards, mounted with 20 Guns, and 70 odd able Men, well fitted with Warlike Stores.

BOSTON, September 10.

We hear from Portſmouth, that Capt. Baldwin (who is arrived there from Cork) ſays, 'twas generally believ'd in Ireland, that the War would be general; that the French would declare in Favour of Spain; that moſt of the Veſſels belonging to Cork were hauled up, and that ſtrict Watches were ordered throughout the Kingdom.

Laſt Monday Capt. Pearſon, arrived at Portſmouth from Liſbon, who ſays, that on his Paſſage, off of Flora, he met with 4 Spaniſh Galleons, who had on board 30 Millions of Pieces of Eight; that they would not tell him from whence they came, or where they were bound, but that by the Courſe they ſteer'd, he judg'd they went to the Groyne.

PHI-

PHILADELPHIA.

We hear from Glouceſter County in the Jerſeys, that on Saturday laſt, as one John Matſon was riding in his Cart, the Wheel paſſing over a Stump, overſet the Cart on him and kill'd him on the Spot.

The ſame Day a Man going with a loaded Waggon towards Coneſtogo, fell down into the Cart-rout, and the Waggon Wheels going over his Body, kill'd him inſtantly.
